In partnership with the Wall Street Journal, REAL Trends, the trusted source in residential brokerage based in Castle Rock, Colorado, announced 2020 America's Best Real Estate Professionals list 8th annual real estate ranking on Wednesday, June 24, 2020. The rankings show the top sales professionals in the United States by sales volume and transaction sides. More than 14,500 real estate professionals from every state are featured.

Stephanie Robinson of RealtySouth is among the top half of 1% of the 1.4 million licensed real estate professionals in the United States. Out of approximately 20,800 agents in Alabama, Stephanie ranks as Alabama's number one individual by volume and ranks as Alabama's 6th individual by transaction sides.

Nationally, Mrs. Robinson ranked as the only Alabamian and holds the position of #67 individual by sales volume.

"To attain this level of success is truly remarkable and is the result of the time and effort Stephanie puts into helping each client," boasts Jan Camp, the Broker of the RealtySouth Mountain Brook Village branch. "She is innovative in building relationships with her clients as well as collaborating with the agents in our office. We are all very proud of Stephanie!"

"Year over year, Stephanie's five-star service is a testament of who she is and how you can expect to be treated. She has again proven to be the leader of real estate in her communities she serves and across the state. America's Best list honors the finest real estate agents across the United States. It brings us great pleasure and excitement to learn about her well-deserved success, and we are honored to have her call RealtySouth home," shares Richard Grimes, President and CEO, RealtySouth.
